HAPPY WOMEN.

Wouldn't any woman be happy, After years of backache suffering, Days of misery, nights of unrest, The distress of urinary troubles, To find relief and cure? No reason why any reader Should suffer in the face of evidence like this:

Mrs. Almira A. Jackson, of East Front St., Traverse City, Mich., says: "For twenty years I was doctoring for kidney and liver trouble, but without benefit. Just before I began using Doan's Kidney Pills I was almost paralyzed. I could hardly stand on my feet because of the numbness and lack of circulation. Her kidneys had thrust into my kidneys the pain could not have been more intense. My sleep was disturbed by visions of distorted figures. The kidney secretions were annoyingly irregular, and I was tortured with thirst and always bloated. I used seven boxes of Doan's Kidney Pills. The bloating subsided until I weighed 100 pounds less, could sleep like a child and was relieved of the pain and the irregularity of the kidney action. My circulation is good and I feel better in every way."

A FREE TRIAL of this great kidney medicine which cured Mrs. Jackson will be mailed on application to any part of the United States. Address Foster-Milburn Co., Buffalo, N. Y. For sale by all druggists; price, 50 cents per box.

Pete's Turn.

Written for the Advertiser.

Farmer John was a tight old wad. He never let his New England soil. He couldn't keep a hired man. His motto was, "get every cent you can." He had a new one and went his way. Red head, witty, husky and strong. The old man offered him big pay. If he'd hire out for a month, and stay; He'd start him in the morning. The old man crowed like a rooster. Set him to hauling wood to town, four or five miles, up hill and down. Pete made three trips. These winter days. Hauled home grain, had a load both ways. Still the old man wasn't satisfied. "All right," says Pete, "You show me how. I've got myself all turned round now. Last night when I was coming in I met myself starting out again."

The old man was mad, "By Heck," you'll go, three times as tight as I am. "I do now," says Pete, "jest about. Turn in, turn over, and then turn out."

BUCKFIELD, ME. OLD HITCH.

Storyettes. A Vain Wish. A few years ago, there lived a woman in one of our small country towns, who her size and good nature. She was what some call a "light weight" and would tip the scales to three hundred.

This bachelor maid was well liked by the people of the community where she lived. One day one of her friends invited her to spend an afternoon with her and to remain all night. The invitation was readily accepted and a very pleasant afternoon and evening was enjoyed.

At a late hour the party retired and quiet reign throughout the household. All slept soundly until about three o'clock, when the bachelor maid, upon waking decided to turn over; not thinking but what she was in her own bed, put one hand against the wall, the other against the bed and gave a shove to turn herself over, as was her custom. Suddenly the bed, which was supplied with casters, gave a swerve and deposited her up on the floor.

The host and hostess were aroused and sleep by the crash and trembling of house. They seized a lamp and hastened to the guest chamber. Upon investigating they found their guest flat on the floor, cast between the bed and the wall. "What has happened?" exclaimed the hostess much distressed.

"Oh, I only tried to turn over and when I pushed against the wall, the bed flew out from under me. O, I wish to heavens I were't larger than the eye to a needle. Was the vain and disgusted wish of the maid."

Wanted to be in the swim. A little fellow came into one of Norway's dry goods stores shopping. He was bubbling over with suppressed excitement. He could hardly wait to give his written order to the clerk whom he knew before he hastened to say, "Neva has got the chicken pox and the whooping cough. Her temperature is one hundred and two and she can't hardly get her breath."

"You must be having a hard time at your house," said the clerk. "You must be careful not to take the disease."

"I am going to next week," he said, "his face fairly radiant with smiles of joy."

With Fear and Trembling. "Come, Marion, and slide some more," said a little Norway boy. "You slide so good, but it makes me dizzy when I get a few rods and run to the ice to get a good start. She stood up and slid to get a good start. The little boy went back to the same starting place and went with great fury and speed till he got on the ice, then dropped on his hands and knees and went across that way.

Humbleness Hath Its Reward. "No, I never associate with my inferiors. Do you?" "Really, I can't say. I think I never met any."

Nursery Rhyme Literally True. A little girl was riding on the Grand Trunk the other day and there happened to be a well-known Englishman sitting on the seat in front of her. Now every one knows that children have a way of saying their nursery rhymes again and again with no apparent reason only the sound of the jingling words. "Fee, fo, fum, I smell the blood of an Englishman," announced this little girl.

Her father tried to direct her attention away from this, but every little while "Fee, fo, fum, I smell the blood of an Englishman" would sound out in the childish voice.

How's This? We offer One Hundred Dollars Reward for any case of Catarrh that cannot be cured by F. J. CHENEY & CO., Toledo, O.

Back to the People. The initiative and referendum simply means bringing the government back to the people. It vests in the people the right to give positive instructions to the legislature to enact certain legislation. It also vests in the people the right to annul objectionable legislation that may be enacted. And lest this privilege be abused it is safe-guarded with stipulations requiring a vote sufficiently large to show that a proper proportion of the people in the matter have the right of exercising its judgment. Under the initiative and referendum no chronic fault-finding element is placed in the position of being able to stir up a rumpus whenever it is disposed. At the same time it effectually drives a legislative oligarchy to the wall. It is the most valuable ally of the power to kill the railroad through legislation for selfish ends. -[Exchange.]

The Paragraph Pulpit.

BY EDWIN A. RUMMALL.

This is to be my last "paragraph pulpit," the time has come to say farewell to my many friends who have expressed to me their pleasure and profit from the weekly homily. I began the paragraph and the paper has inserted it because I am an independent minister and the paper could not be charged as favoring any one church. My own work here in Waterville represented three leading denominations in these parts. This nominal independency is now at an end and in order not to compromise the paper, the "paragraph pulpit" must end also. I have accepted an invitation to succeed Dr. W. C. Gannett at the First Unitarian Church, in Rochester, New York, hence I am now a member of that church.

Let your life be your creed, and your love for your fellows your religion. Boast not that you are certain of anything, but hope for the best. Complain of nothing and no one and believe that all things will happen for good. Take nothing for granted, prove all things. Be no one, but be yourself. Do all things whether reading, working, worshipping or playing, dancing, singing, with a spirit of cheerfulness, good-will and sincerity. Last of all, some will want me to recommend two or three interesting books where they can follow for themselves some of the things I have tried to teach from week to week. The following can be obtained at any good book-store.

"Vivants," "Churches and Modern Thought," "The Liberal Christianity," S. S. G. and any of the works of my good friend, Chas. F. Dole, such as "The Coming People," "The Theology of Civilization" or "Spirit of Democracy."

Trust me in the Lord forever, For in the Lord, the Eternal, there is everlasting strength."

Successful Entertainment.

Under the auspices of The Village Improvement Society, The Bryant Pond Dramatic Club gave a very successful entertainment Wednesday evening in Grange hall.

The program consisted of a drama, followed by a social dance. Between the acts of the play, specialties were presented. An excellent musical program was rendered by local talent. The drama, a five-act comedy entitled, "The Country Minister," was presented by the following cast:

Rev. Ralph Underwood, the country minister.

Clarence E. Cole, Gregory Heath, of the world at large.

Ned I. Swan, Jud Parson, a wreck on the ocean of life.

Elijah D. Cole, Timothy Hodge, who would rather whistle than work.

Daniel C. Hayes, Deacon Botter, just a trifle deaf.

Leroy W. Faverly, William Henry, Edward J. Burdick.

Tom Sparrow, Arthur J. Burdick, Mr. Filkins, an office man.

Fred M. Cole, Helen Burleigh, from the city.

Gertrude M. Deshon, Jeanne Jane Jenkins, the postmistress.

Helen E. Cushman, Roxey, a fresh air kid.

Laura E. Newell, Grady Grimes, Annie King.

Fanny, a maid, Bessie L. Cole.

The action was unusually good, the work of Laura Newell as "Roxey" deserving special praise. A large audience attended, and the profits, which will be used for local improvements, were more than satisfactory.

Plan to Fight Disease.

Druggists Will Battle Stomach Troubles in Norway.

The increase of stomach troubles in Norway has led Frank Kimball, proprietor of the Norway Drug Store, to take effective measures to combat the disease. He has the local agency for Mi-o-na stomach tablets, and in order to induce people suffering with weak stomach or indigestion to use the remedy, offers to supply it with the distinct understanding that money will be refunded in every case where it does not cure.

Mi-o-na is not a mere digestive, but an absolute strengthener and builder-up of the whole digestive tract. If you suffer with headache, giddiness, palpitation, bad taste in the mouth, nervousness, coated tongue, distress after eating, use Mi-o-na and see how quickly these symptoms of a weak stomach will disappear.

The remedy strengthens the muscular walls of the stomach and increases the flow of gastric juices so that nourishment is extracted from the food and the refuse is expelled without the aid of purgative or laxative medicines.

Remember that Frank Kimball gives a guarantee to refund the money unless it cures. He takes all the risk, and there is no danger of your losing anything except indigestion when you buy a 50-cent box of Mi-o-na.

Small lots of corn that we have seen is shown above. The first prize lot grown, selected and put up by J. L. Kocely, of Ohio. Here is a hint for farmers in general, and the suggestion may prove helpful. The husks are turned back and tied as represented in the picture, says American Agriculturist.

FRUIT NOTES

The pear is ready to pick as soon as the color begins to change and the stem will part readily from the branch. The ripening process should then be continued indoors in a dark room, which must be cool for slow ripening and warm for quick ripening.

The best way to pick peaches is to look over the trees a number of times and pick specimens when just in the right condition.

Pick the plum trees over repeatedly, taking off each time only those fruits that are right for market or use.

Prune the old wood and part of the new out of the current bushes and take young shoots for cuttings if desired.

Use new barrels for apple packing, or boxes if in favor in your market.

For pears, peaches and plums let your packages be of the best, up to date and suited to the preference of your particular market.

Seven years' study of the prevalence and injuries of the fruit spot or scab fungus on peaches at the Ohio experiment station confirms the popular opinion that this fungus is influenced in its development by the amount of rainy weather during the late summer and early fall.

SELECTING SEED CORN.

Carefully Choose Ears That Nearest Approach Perfection.

The ideal ear of corn is not the one of greatest length or diameter, but is described as being "about ten inches long, with grains deep and wedge shaped, set in twenty-four rows as straight and uniform as soldiers on parade and as thick at the tip as at the butt." The ears of this character that are exhibited at corn shows are, it is claimed, the result of years of careful breeding and scientific cultivation.

Yet, having these characteristics in mind, ears approximately perfect are to be found in every well cultivated cornfield, and these should be carefully selected and stored for seed, from which, year by year, the standard of quality may be raised and the yield per acre increased.

Until very recently but little attention was given to the selection of corn for planting. It was thought that if the germ was vital the plant would produce as well from a misshapen seed as from one that was entirely symmetrical and from an ear on which the rows were crooked and the kernels somewhat scattered as from those that were straight and close set. Careful study has ascertained, however, that these minor characteristics are as readily inherited as the more important ones of the proper proportion of grain to cob and of gluten to starch and protein in the kernels.

Uniformity in size of ear and in set of kernels, in weight, length and diameter of ear is desirable not only for their intrinsic value, but because where machinery is used for husking and shelling the latter can be most easily and satisfactorily employed upon grain that is not too diverse in these matters.—Farm Progress.

CELERY BLIGHT.

More Frequent in Plants Grown on Very Moist Soil.

The celery plant is subject to two or three blights or rusts which check its growth and injure its appearance, which is very important in a vegetable used as much for a table ornament as for an esculent.

Among the worst of these diseases is the development of watery blotches along the veins and edges of the leaves. These were supposed to be due to the presence of minute nematode (eel-like) worms, working between the upper and under cuticles. Later, however, it was discovered that they were caused by a species of bacteria.

Dr. Halstead of the New Jersey experiment station made some years ago a very careful study of this disease and found that it generally began in the center or heart of the plant, from which it spread to the expanding leaves.

He discovered that it was most serious on plants that had been grown in too moist soil, but not submerged. He judged it best, therefore, to prevent the appearance of the disease by growing the plants in rather dry soil and only occasionally irrigating them with pure water.

Spraying with bordeaux mixture or with fungicide powders has been recommended as checks; but, as a rule, bacterial affections are not curable and must be cut out.

Corn Well Displayed.

In selecting corn for exhibit at a state or local fair farmers should take only perfect and uniform ears. Frequently corn is ruined for exhibition purposes by being handled carelessly. One of the neatest ways of showing Thousands Have Kidney Trouble and Never Suspect it.

Prevalence of Kidney Disease.

Most people do not realize the alarming increase and remarkable prevalence of kidney disease.

While kidney disorders are the most common diseases that prevail, they are almost the last recognized by patient and physicians, who content themselves with doctoring the effects, while the original disease undermines the system.

What To Do.

There is comfort in the knowledge so often expressed, that Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root, the great kidney remedy, fulfills every wish in curing rheumatism, pain in the back, kidneys, liver, bladder and every part of the urinary passage. It corrects inability to hold water and scalding pain in passing it, or bad effects following use of liquor, wine or beer, and overcomes that unpleasant necessity of being compelled to go often during the day, and to get up many times during the night. The mild and extraordinary effect of Swamp-Root is soon realized. It stands the highest for its wonderful cures of the most distressing cases. If you need a medicine you should have the best. Sold by druggists in fifty-cent and one-dollar sizes.

You may have a sample bottle and a book that tells all about it, both sent free by mail. Address Dr. Kilmer & Co., Binghamton, N. Y. When writing mention this paper and don't make any mistake, but remember the name, Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root, and the address, Binghamton, N. Y.

The Woman in Masonry.

Why She Is so Rightly Excluded.

Noting the prominence of woman in the various fraternal societies—the Odd Fellows, the Knights of Pythias, the Grand Army, the Modern Woodmen—as auxiliaries, or otherwise—some have wondered why the fair sex do not figure in Masonry, about their husbands, fathers, brothers are honored and devoted members. On the face of the proposition it does seem right queer. But there are reasons for the exclusiveness. One of the best we have seen was given many years ago at a great Masonic celebration in Texas, and among Masons has been generally regarded as Orthodox. Said the speaker:

"Women sometimes complain that they are not permitted to enter our lodge and work with the craft in their labors, and learn all there is to be learned in the institution. We will explain the reason. We learn that before the Almighty had finished his work he was in some doubt about creating Eve. The creation of every living thing had been accomplished, and the Almighty had made Adam (who was the Mason) and created for him the finest lodge in the world, and called it Paradise, No. 1. He then caused all the beasts of the field and the fowls of the air to pass before Adam for him to name them, which he had to do alone, so that no confusion might therefore arise when Eve was created, whom he knew would make trouble if he created her beforehand."

"Adam being much fatigued with the labor of his first task, fell asleep, and when he awoke he found Eve in the lodge with him. Adam being Senior Warden, placed Eve at the pillar of beauty in the South, and they received their instructions from the Grand Master in the East. When finished, she immediately called the Craft from labor to refreshments. Instead of attending to the duties of the office as she ought, she left her station, violated her obligations, let in an expelled Mason, who had no business there, and went around with him, leaving Adam to look after the jewels. This fellow had been expelled from the Lodge, with several others, some time before. But hearing the footsteps of the Grand Master he suddenly took his leave, telling Eve to go to making aprons, as she and Adam were not in proper regalia."

"She went and told Adam, and when the Grand Master returned to the Lodge he found his gavel had been stolen. He called for the Senior and Junior Wardens, who had neglected to guard the door, and found them absent. After searching for some time he came to where they were hid and demanded of Adam what he was doing there, instead of occupying his official station. Adam replied that he was waiting for Eve to call the Craft from refreshments to labor again; and that the Craft was not properly clothed, which they were making provisions for."

"Turning to Eve he asked her what she had to offer in excuse for her unofficial and un-masonic conduct. She replied that a fellow passenger himself off as a grand lecturer had been giving her instructions, and she thought it no harm. The Grand Master then asked her what had become of his gavel. She said she didn't know unless that fellow had taken it away."

"Finding that Eve was no longer trustworthy, and that she had caused Adam to neglect his duty, and having let in a fellow who had expelled, the Grand Master closed the lodge and turned them out, setting a faithful Tyler to watch the door with a flaming sword. Adam repenting of his folly went to work like a man and a good Mason, in order to get reinstated again. Not so with Eve—she got angry about it, and commenced raising Cain."

"Adam on account of his reformation was permitted to establish Lodges, and work in the degrees, and while Eve was allowed to visit a lodge of charity outside yet she was never again to be admitted to assist in the regular Lodge work of the Craft. Hence the reason why a woman cannot become an inside Mason."

NORWAY AND VICINITY.

Band Concert and Ball.
The dancers and music lovers enjoyed a real treat Friday evening at the Norway Opera House, the occasion being the first annual ball of the Norway Cadet band.

When the band of twenty pieces, at a little past eight o'clock, "struck up" the concert march, there were good sized crowds both on the floor and in the balcony. The concert program follows:

Concert March, Entry of the Gladiators, Fugue Overture, Post and Prentiss, Supper
Saxophone from London, Donizetti
Grand National Fantasia
Tone pictures of the North and South Duet for trombone and cornet, Woodard Percussion, Loebl, Watson and Knapp March, Jack Tar, Sousa.

Go where you may, you'll not find in town of Norway's size, nor in many larger towns, a band that can come up with our band when it comes to furnishing music that is music.

For the grand march some forty couples took the floor and others occupied the seats and joined in the frolic later.
Floor manager Urshall Gammon with Bertha Haverdine led the march. The music for the order of fourteen dances and three extras was furnished by the band. At intermission ice cream and cake was served by Ed Rich and assistants.

The Pellet Gracilis.
The next number of Rhodora, the official publication of the New England Botanical society, will contain the announcement of Walter Bacon's discovery of the slender cliff fern in Maine, the honorary name being Pellet Gracilis.
Heretofore Connecticut was the farthest known northern station for this fern.
The plant was found by Mr. Bacon in the town of Paris.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Hathaway spent last week in Boston.
Orin Edgemoor and family have been visiting at John Saunders' at Mechanic Falls.

Last year 190 dogs were licensed in this town. The year before that it was a few in excess of that number therefore the number of dogs in town are decreas-ing.

Arrangements are being made to have H. F. Moulton of Portland give a lecture illustrated by stereoscopic views at the Universalist church in the near future for the benefit of the choir.

Will Shank, who has been at McCall's Ferry, Pa., working for a construction company as a machinist, has gone to Schenectady, N. Y., where some construction work is to be done. He is put-

Hon. Wm. T. Haines of Waterville has been calling on political friends and making acquaintances in the county at the past week. He was in Norway Friday evening, having come from Rumford Falls. He wants to be the next Republican candidate for governor and we venture the guess he will have some support from this county even though this is the birthplace of the "Plebeian Straddle" which is more or less popular with some of the republicans of this vicinity.

The Delmar and Mack vaudeville show at the Opera House, Thursday evening had a fairly good attendance. Delmar, the magician, performed the mystical feats of making money, cards, balls, gold watches, doves, rabbits, and divers and sundry things appear and disappear at his pleasure. People are interested in things they don't quite understand and this was especially true of the boys of the audience. Mack sang his songs and danced in a manner to receive encores, and his illustrated songs were made very plain by the views thrown on the screen. Their picture machine was somewhat faulty, but after repeated trials and some confusing it started. The pictures were so good that the people staid to see the finish and regretted that some of the first were so dim and hazy that they had but a faint idea of what they might have been.

John Coburn and Isa. Coburn are handling cord wood for Seth Walker.
E. P. Kimball recently sold a lot of Mrs. Gorham, who went to stay with relatives at Gorham, N. H., fell and hurt herself quite badly.

Amable Martin.

Supposed to be buried at Andersonville, Died at Lewiston, Wednesday.
The death of Amable Martin occurred yesterday at the Sisters' hospital where he was taken five days ago. Mr. Martin who was 70 years of age, lived alone in Lewiston where he was taken sick. He died rapidly until his death. He had no relatives hereabouts but at the hospital told one of the Sisters that he had three sons and a daughter, and that one of his sons lived in California. He served in Company G, 11th Maine, in the Civil war.

The above was seen in a paper by Capt.
Thomas Clark, clerk in the office of the adjutant general at the State House, Augusta, and brought back memories of the Civil war. The 11th Maine Infantry was Capt. Clark's old regiment, and the notice of the death of Mr. Martin was somewhat of a surprise to him inasmuch as the records in the office of the adjutant general state that the man died in Andersonville prison, Va.

Capt. Clark knew the man Martin well, and remembers perfectly the details of his capture before being sent to Andersonville. Martin was a member of Co. G, but his name was Amable and not Amable, as stated in the above paragraph. There was another member of the same company named George Peaquette, who enlisted with Martin, both being French Canadians, and the latter was captured at the same time.

The men were captured on the night of June 18, 1864. The regiment at that time was at Bermuda Hundred, Va. Both were on picket duty on the south side of the James river, just below a place called Derry bluff, and one day night in question Capt. Clark was officer of the guard. Martin and Pequette were both rather raw in the art of warfare and the Confederates had but little trouble in stealing up and taking them prisoners.

After their capture they were taken to Andersonville prison, and according to the records Martin died there, but if the man who died at Lewiston, Wednesday, and the one mentioned in the history of the 11th Maine Regiment are one and the same and they seem to be, it is probable that there was a mistake made in the records.

Children's Column.

Dear Editor:—I have written to this paper once before. The letter was printed, so I'll try my luck again. I am seven years of age. I have light hair, gray eyes, weigh about fifty pounds and am about four feet tall.

I have two little cats. Their names are Tiger and Beauty. They are awful cute.
I have three sisters. Their names are Estella, Grace, and Hazel. Grace is a subscriber of the ADVERTISER. We like it fine. We have a Victor talking machine and forty-six records. They are all nice ones, too. I should like to correspond with some little girl about my age.
I will be glad to answer. Well I guess I will close for this time. I will come again if this is printed. Good-by.

Yours Truly,
EFFIE MONROE CHAMBERS, Diamond Farm,
Wentworth Location, N. H.

January 15th 1908.
Riddle:—Love I sit, Love I stand, Love
I hold fast in my hand. Love is blind, Love can't see, I can see Love but Love can't see me? Answer this please.

It Didn't Work.
"The late Sam Small had his faults," said an Atlantian, "but he did not dodge the penalty of them. When he went wrong he owned up like a man, and if punishment was due he took it."

"That was the doctrine Sam Small preached. He hated dodgers. He used to laugh bitterly at the plea of hypnotism influence that used to be put up by nearly every murderer."

"I once heard him ridiculing hypnotism. He said that for Christmas, and when the bill came in for turkey and mince meat, candy, ducks, chickens, plum pudding, fruit cake and so on he thought to himself that there was a case for hypnosis to be tried."

"He went first to hypnotize the grocer. Approaching the man, he looked him squarely in the eye, at the same time repeating slowly and impressively:

"My bill is paid."
"A change came over the grocer's face. His color faded, his eyes grew dull, his expression blank, and in a strange, mechanical voice he muttered:
"You're a liar."

In the Poultry Yard.
The hens that pass their most early are the ones to keep for early winter layers.
In selecting breeders for market stock only broad, full breasted birds should be chosen.
Sundowner seed will help to hasten the molting of fowls. Linsseed meal is also useful for the same purpose.
Ducks are not subject to cholera or roup, and lice do not trouble them at all.
Geese are adapted to wet lands and do well if supplied with good pasturage and plenty of water.

Fall Seeding of Grass.
In some parts of New England fields are frequently seeded to grass in the fall. This is done without any crop and in some cases is found to be more successful than spring seeding along with a crop of grain. This work should be done in August or early in September on ground well prepared; that is, made of fine tilth, smooth and well fertilized. Where this system works well there should be good success with the crops of hay to follow, as they will have the entire benefit of the fertilizers applied, remarks American Cultivator.

Everybody ought to do more business in 1908 than 1907. The year is one day longer.
If Sebago lake does not freeze over at all, how will it be settled regarding the date of beginning the fishing there in the spring.

It was a real philosopher who said that the wisdom of the wise man looks like the hole in a doughnut when the small boy begins to ask questions.

The Kind You Have Always Bought
Bears the Signature of Dr. J. C. Fitch

Dr. J. C. Fitch, proprietor of Camp
Bemis, The Birchies and The Barker on

trip south this winter as usual. He will probably visit Palm Beach before he re-

Dead Yet Seen at Window.

"Why did Uncle Sumner stand up there at the window? Why did he not come down into the yard with the rest of you?"
"My dear niece, your Uncle Sumner had been dead four months when this picture was taken."

And then the widow of Sumner Sessions, a well known resident of Bryant's Pond, recently deceased, proceeded to tell her frightened niece a story which though only whispered about, has shaken this little village to its foundations. Many, many people believe that the restless spirit of Sumner Sessions is watching over his family and has actually been made manifest.

The story briefly told is this:
Some 18 months ago Sumner Sessions, a lifelong resident of Milton, bought the handsome place known for years as the Chase place on the edge of Bryant's Pond and brought his family there. In the fall of 1906 his health began to fail and during the winter he was steadily growing worse. For weeks before his death he passed his time in standing at the window of his room, therefore was not left as comfortably cared for as otherwise might have been done.

In September of 1907, a traveling artist came to this village and took pictures of several places and people, including the Sessions house. He went away and in due time sent his pictures to his customers. When Mrs. Sessions opened her eyes she was shocked beyond measure to see at the upper window of the room, unused since Mr. Sessions' death, what she declares to be a perfectly plain and recognizable picture of her late husband in his familiar attitude, gazing down on her in the garden. She said nothing to anybody, but to a chosen few relatives showed the picture without remark.

In every case the same recognition has been made, and the effect has been startling. Although pledged to secrecy, the story leaked out and there are two opinions on the matter. Many firmly believe the picture to be Sessions, himself.
Others think some shadow upon the drawn curtains produced the effect.
The experiment has been tried over and over to locate some tree, or reflection, which shall produce the thing again;
other pictures have been taken, even of the house, but nothing unusual appears on the plates.

Those who knew Mr. Sessions best are firmest in the recognition of the picture, though any casual glance at the picture shows beyond dispute the outlines of a man at the window. Many stories are afoot concerning the matter, but the picture stands for itself. So far as possible the family are reticent about the matter, though there is no doubt that it is no chance reflection, but a real picture of their husband and father, who had died four months before the artist made the exposure that September day. They insist that the pose, the white head inclined down, the frock coat buttoned tightly to the chin and the wasted hands are as clear to their sight as any other detail of the picture. And with magnifying glass, the features come out distinctly.

So the matter stands; is it a strange reflection, or is it the spirit of Sumner Sessions which gazes down upon them who are so sure to give him cause for distress? (Bangor Weekly News.

evening spent. The club will meet Jan.
24 at Virgil Littlefield's.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Chaplin went to Norway last week.
Dustin McAllister is very sick, with little hopes of his recovery.
Rev. Mr. Fuller visited the sick in this place Wednesday the 15th.
Frank McAllister and son Raymond went to Norway, Jan. 18th.

The loggers are wishing for more snow. J. Bartlett is doing an extensive business in getting out lumber. He has one ox team and five horse teams in Birchbarnet. They need about two feet of snow to do a good business.

Where Cooking Is a Job.

Here are some figures from a lumber camp up in Greenwood which give an idea as to the appetite of lucky woodmen. There are 32 men in this crew and the cook reports that he makes each day 300 large biscuits, 150 doughnuts, 36 pies, bakes six quarts of dry beans with potatoes, vegetables, etc., in proportion.

A large beef creature is eaten every five days. There is something to be exploited in that lot of 36 men daily for 35 men. Probably the boss gets the extra one.

Dogs with Artificial Legs.

In England dogs which have been so unfortunate as to lose a leg are frequently provided with artificial ones, and are enabled to skip about merrily. When Even the canine pets of the poor are favorably treated of a servicable wooden leg being made for about 50 cents. The spirit of kindness is noticeable in this country. In Michigan there is a sanitarium where dogs alone are treated, and as many as 200 are under treatment once, and they are surrounded with every comfort.

The Kind You Have Always Bought
Bears the Signature of Dr. J. C. Fitch

Dr. J. C. Fitch, proprietor of Camp
Bemis, The Birchies and The Barker on Mooselookungenic lake, is planning a trip south this winter as usual. He will probably visit Palm Beach before he returns.

One great trouble with the true stories of the nature writers is that the tellers do not seem to think that a sprinkling of lies judiciously mixed with the truth is needed to make the stories sufficiently interesting.

If a woman does not get married this year, it is her own fault. What if she does ask once, and he refuses, or should ask twice and be refused. Remember that old saying, "If at first you don't succeed, try, try again" and keep on trying. It is a blessed privilege belongs to the woman this year.

This woman says that sick women should not fail to try Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound as she did.

Mrs. A. Gregory, of 2355 Lawrence
St., Denver, Col., writes to Mrs.
Pinkham:

"I was practically an invalid for six years, on account of female troubles.
I underwent an operation by the doctor's advice, but in a few months I was worse than before. A friend advised Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and it restored me to perfect health, such as I have not enjoyed in many years. Any woman suffering as I did with backache, bearing-down pains, and periodic pains, should not fail to use Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound."

FACTS FOR SICK WOMEN.

For thirty years Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, made from roots and herbs, has been the standard remedy for female ills, and has positively cured thousands of women who have been troubled with displacements, inflammation, ulceration, fibroid tumors, irregularities, periodic pains, backache, that bearing-down feeling, flatulency, indigestion, dizziness or nervous prostration.
Why don't you try it?

Mrs. Pinkham invites all sick women to write her for advice.
She has guided thousands to health. Address, Lynn, Mass.

Prevention Better Than a Cure.

The absence of snow this winter has been generally bemoaned but it has been great larks for the skaters. Never has there been a winter when this sport has been more generally enjoyed in this vicinity than the present one. And it has not been confined to the boys and girls, either, but many a man and woman has put on the skates for the first time in years and glided joyously over the frozen curves and rivers. Some have even essayed to do fancy stunts with more or less success, but all have come home exhilarated and glowing.

There is no reason why the present craze for out-of-door life should not extend to the winter season. The pure, cold air of January is the best of tonics to the system and the sports of winter are no less delightful than the tennis, golf and base ball of the summer season.
Let the good work go on. It's worth more than all the sanitariums in the world for the stamping out of the scurge of consumption and other bodily ills. An ounce of prevention is still worth many pounds of cure.

A Comforting Philosophy.

It is better that right should prevail than that "our side" should win. Provided that "our side" is in right it is best that it wins; but if "our side" is wrong our defeat is better than the winning of wrong.

Steady, girls, just wait for three months before proposing. Prospects will then be brighter, and not so much need for coal.

AGRICULTURAL TEACHING.
 Definite Technical Training For Activities of Farm Life.
 By Dr. E. W. ALLEN, office of experiment stations.
 Elementary agricultural instruction was one of the prominent subjects of discussion at the forty-fourth annual convention of the National Educational association, held recently at Asbury Park, N. J., and it enjoyed the distinction of special mention in the annual address of the president of the association, delivered to thousands of teachers at the opening session. This was perhaps all the more significant as coming from the superintendent of schools of New York city, Dr. William H. Maxwell.

Dr. Maxwell commended the teaching of agriculture in public schools in general, pointing out its advantages to the people in rural communities and to the nation as well in the greater efficiency of its agricultural population. He declared the teaching of agriculture in a practical manner to be just as necessary for the rural school as manual training is for the city school.

Most important of all, however, was the report of the committee on industrial education in schools for rural communities. The committee, which was appointed at the meeting in Boston in 1903, consisted of L. D. Harvey, chairman, superintendent of schools of Menominee, Wis.; L. H. Bailey of Cornell university, Alfred Bayliss, state superintendent of public instruction in Illinois; W. T. Carrington, state superintendent of public instruction in Missouri, and W. M. Hays, assistant secretary of agriculture.

In general the committee maintained that the rural schools, which train nearly one-half of the school population of this country, should recognize the fact that the major portion of their pupils will continue to live upon the farm and should provide specific, definite, technical training fitting them for the activities of farm life. It added strong arguments in support of this position and emphasized the educational value as well as the practical utility of courses of study framed with this end in view.

But the committee called attention to the difficulties of securing the efficient teaching of agriculture with the present organization of our public school system. It discouraged the wholesale introduction of agriculture in country schools having only a single teacher. To require by law that every country schoolteacher shall give instruction in the elements of agriculture is in the judgment of the committee a serious mistake. It will simply result in another failure to be added to the failures recorded in France, Ireland and Canada. Such failures are likely to discourage further immediate efforts and prevent the present undertaking of what might otherwise be done.

Dr. A. C. Luce stated that enough had been done to show that such instruction could be made successful in elementary and secondary schools and that it only remained to work out a feasible plan for the general introduction of agriculture into the rural schools.

THE GARDEN KEYBOARD
 These are the days to search fields and woods for shrubs and herbs suitable for a wild garden or for planting in garden borders or yard.

Get up the petunias and other border plants that are to be used for winter window gardening before the frost nips them. By cutting off the tops of these and keeping them cool and shaded for two weeks a fine new growth will be started.
 Prickly or winter spinach will stand very severe weather if lightly protected with straw or hay and is a good kind for autumn planting.
 Gather winter squash before it is injured by frost.
 "Handling celery" should be promptly attended to. This is the drawing together of the leaf stalks (that tend to spread apart) and keeping them in an upright position by pressing earth firmly around them.
 Plant hardy perennial onions for bunching in the spring.

Norway People with Weak Lungs Need Vinol.

Many people inherit weak lungs which are likely to be attacked by consumption. So also are lungs weakened by disease or by a stubborn hacking cough. No matter what the cause, Vinol strengthens weak lungs and gives one the power to throw off wasting diseases. The reason that Vinol has such power to heal and strengthen is because it contains a highly concentrated form of the curative, medicinal and strengthening elements of cod liver oil, actually taken from fresh cods' livers, with the useless, nauseating oil eliminated and tonic iron added.

So sure are we of what Vinol will do that we ask every person in Norway suffering from weak lungs, stubborn hacking coughs or any wasting disease to try Vinol on our offer to return money if it fails. Frank P. Stone, Druggist, Norway, Me.

Fryeburg Academy.
 The winter term began Jan. 7, with an attendance of eighty-five students.

The senior drama which was postponed from the fall term will be given in about two weeks. The title of this play is Higbee of Harvard, and it promises to be one of the best dramas given by the students of recent years. Arrangements are being made to engage a teacher of calisthenics from the Boston Normal School of Gymnastics for the remainder of the winter.

Walter J. Crandon, captain of the base ball and foot ball teams, has recently been operating on for appendicitis. He is now improving rapidly and it is believed that he will be able to captain the team in the spring.

Friday afternoon a mass meeting of the students was held to discuss the question of a gymnasium for the academy. Speeches were made by the teachers and several of the students, and it was finally decided to give a series of entertainments to raise what money was possible, to be put aside to be used for no other purpose than for a gymnasium. It is believed that if a fund is started, even though it is small, it will receive contributions from the later classes and older alumni and soon enough money will be received to warrant starting the building. A gymnasium is one of the sore needs of the school. The academy hall has served for several years for this purpose but it often has to be used for other purposes at times when the students want it for their gymnastics.

HEBRON.
 Hebron was Gold.

On the evening of Friday, Jan. 17, the people at Bethel witnessed one of the most exciting basket ball games ever played on this floor. The game came in the afternoon and at a little past 8 the game was called, but not without much disagreement on the part of Bethel, who were opposed to having Mr. Horton of Hebron referee. This was finally settled by giving Gould the umpire. Then the game commenced. Such lively playing on both sides rarely is seen. Gould led Hebron by six points at the end of the first half.

The townspeople of Bethel much to their discredit made the first half much more exciting by their boisterous and sullying shouts and jollings, but Coach McGraw of Hebron in a few direct and pointed words put an end to it.

The second half was straight basket ball from one end to the other, each team playing for every point there was in them. Keough, Welch, Wilson and Soule did some remarkable passing and throwing some of the prettiest goals. Keough dropped one ball into the basket from nearly the length of the floor, a shot rarely seen at any game. The Bethel boys did well, too, making many nearly as remarkable plays.

At nearly the end of last half time was called and McGraw changed a few of his men, and with half a minute to play and the score 22 to 21 in Gould's favor the game started again and such playing as was seen in that half minute can rarely be paralleled.

On the same instant that the timers rose with time up Welch of Hebron dropped a ball into the basket making the statement unimpeachable. This would have then made the score 25 to 23 in Hebron's favor. But this was not allowed by Gould and even before the final decision the Bethel boys set their chapel bell to ringing and claimed the game.

Gould feels that if they can do as well as they have they will be ready to meet Hebron on the return game on Hebron's floor, and Hebron feels that when they get Gould in the home "gym" that things will look different. So those who witness the game at Hebron on Feb. 14, will see one of the most interesting outcomes of Maine Interscholastic sports.

EAST SUMMER.

Good Roads.

'Good roads are only good when they are good the whole length, like a chain they are only as strong as the weakest link. Loads are governed by bad spots or steep hills to be gone over. Moral—no use to put on two tons in Waterford, if one and one-half is all that can be drawn through the mud of the lake road.

When C. H. Adams built the Congregational church edifice he did not hire a blacksmith to oversee the work, and when a farmer wants his horse shod he does not hire a cobbler to do it. Then why should towns continue to hire men to make roads who really know no more about the work than either of the above mentioned, about the building churches or shoeing horses, be they ever so successful in their chosen work.

However no one has a right to expect to hire skilled men to do work at day laborer prices, the honor is all right but will not buy bread and shoes, and the man who is competent will not consider the job an instant.

Common business intelligence will allow that the expense of oversight and planning is just as legitimate an expense as teams and laborers. If the road commissioner needs a blacksmith, he pays the wages demanded, or a carpenter the same and no one objects, but if he should happen to know how to build roads and could earn twenty dollars per week, he must not charge over ten fifty. This, however, is improbable as he would not touch the job anyway. So the farmer, laborer or whoever happens to be asked to hire a thoroughly competent man, in or out of town, and then tell him to go ahead and make the road as it should be.

If we can build one-half mile of permanent road per year we are that much ahead, something that has never been done yet. WM. C. LEAVITT.

How Her Life Was Saved When Bitten by a Large Snake.
 How few people there are who are not afraid of snakes. Not long ago a harmless little garter snake fell on the wheel of an automobile which was being driven by a woman. The woman promptly fainted and the car, left to its own resources, ran into a stone wall and caused a serious accident.

The bite of a poisonous snake needs prompt attention. Mrs. K. M. Fishel, Route No. 1, Box 40, Dillsburg, Pa., tells how she saved her life when bitten by a large snake.
 "On August 29, 1906, I was bitten on the hand twice by a large copperhead snake. Being a distance from any medical aid, as a last resort I used Sloan's Liniment, and to my astonishment found it killed all pain and was the means of saving my life. I am the mother of four children and am never without your Liniment."
